RTD announces new Chief Operating Officer

(Stockton, CA) – San Joaquin Regional Transit District (RTD) is pleased to announce that Thomas Drozt has joined the agency as Chief Operating Officer. In this new position, Drozt will oversee transportation, maintenance, and paratransit operations at RTD.

“We’re very excited to have Thomas Drozt join the RTD team,” said CEO Donna DeMartino. “With over 17 years of transit management and planning experience, he will play an integral role in shaping, innovating, and growing how RTD delivers transportation services to the San Joaquin County region.”

Drozt previously worked at the Maryland Transit Administration as Director of Bus Transportation. Prior to that, he held management and executive positions at Dunn Transportation, Xerox Corporation, MV Transportation, and Veolia Transportation. Drozt earned his Bachelor’s Degree in Global Business Management with an emphasis on Leadership from Arizona State University.
