RTD CEO Donna DeMartino wins Susan B. Anthony Women of Achievement Award

Stockton, CA —The San Joaquin County Commission on the State of Women awarded Chief Executive Officer Donna DeMartino of San Joaquin Regional Transit District (RTD) with the Susan B. Anthony Women in Achievement award in the business category.

“I was indeed honored to receive this recognition from the commission,” said DeMartino. “Having begun my career as a coach operator and working my way up to CEO, I know firsthand what it takes for women to succeed in a traditionally male-dominated industry. I hope my story will help inspire others to realize their dreams.”

The award was given for DeMartino’s continued leadership at RTD as well as her commitment to serving the community outside of the business. The award focuses on her many accomplishments within RTD, such as making transit more accessible by creating multiple new transfer stations, helping to improve air quality in San Joaquin County by phasing out diesel-only vehicles and replacing them with hybrid electric and all-electric vehicles, and forming partnerships with companies like UBER to provide more mobility options for RTD’s ridership. Additionally, the award also highlights DeMartino’s extracurricular activities within the community. By participating in local events, teaching classes at colleges throughout the state, and working with women’s groups in the area, DeMartino sparks hope in those she encounters and motivates them to attain their goals.

DeMartino received the award during the banquet held on February 15 at the Stockton Golf and Country Club.
