This effort is part of the San Joaquin Council of Governments annual One Voice trip that advocates for increased funding and legislation for projects and programs significant to the San Joaquin region.

RTD CEO Alex Clifford and Board of Directors, Les Fong and Balwinder Singh, met with the Federal Transportation Administration (FTA), Congressman McNerney, Congressman Harder, and other federal administrators to advocate the following projects that embody transportation sustainability and resiliency:

- Diesel Hybrid Bus Project
- Transit Vehicle Public Display Monitor System Project
- Pedestrian Collision and Avoidance System \(PCADS\) Project
- RTD and United Cerebral Palsy Bus Replacement Project

“These projects are about transformation, which is focused on the quality of life for all people,” said CEO Alex Clifford. “Introducing new and innovative projects helps improve customer experience that will make our system cleaner, greener, and more resilient as we win back ridership.”
